SONS OF VETERANS ELECT OFFICERS

Address by Nathan Bedford Forrest—Teachers' Association Meets.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Lancaster, Va., March 13.—The Stephen D. Lee Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, at their recent meeting at Kilmarnock, admitted on members and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Frank S. Chase, commander; Edward E. Lawson, first lieutenant; commander; Frank G. Newell, second lieutenant; commander; O. J. Shelton, adjutant; B. H. Hubbard, Jr., surgeon; J. Bert Hubbard, quartermaster; Rev. Charles A. Hall, chaplain; W. D. Wilder, treasurer; Frank S. Wilder, color bearer; Wilder T. James, historian. The camp held a public meeting at Irvington, Saturday evening, when Nathan Bedford Forrest, of Memphis, Tenn., adjutant-general of the United Grand Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, and grandson of the great cavalry leader whose name he bears, delivered an address on the principles and purposes of the organization before a large and interested audience. Dr. Frank W. Lewis, superintendent of schools for Lancaster and Northumberland, and A. B. Chandler, Jr., State school examiner for this district, spent the past week in visiting the high schools in these two counties and in addressing public meetings on educational matters.

The meeting of the Lancaster Teachers' Association at White Stone Saturday was one of the largest and most interesting ever held in this section, the large assembly hall of White Stone High School being filled with teachers, school officials and others interested in public education. In addition to the informal discussions usual on such occasions, Miss Susie Chilton, of the Lancaster High School, read a valuable paper on the importance of introducing nature study in the public school curriculum. Kirk Broad, principal of the Weems School, read a paper on the value of athletics in the public schools. Both subjects were exhaustively discussed by the teachers. Dr. A. C. Fisher, of Richmond county, representing the State Department of Health, delivered an address on the modern methods of sanitation in the home and school. A. B. Chandler, Jr., State school examiner for this district, delivered an address on school ideals.
